Hi Laura,

We would not be interested in the property portion of your coverage but would be willing to consider the casualty side if you are able to split them out. It would be dependent on loss experience.

If you would like to proceed, let me know and I can recommend an appointed agent to put together a submission on those lines. If you have not already given notice to PRM of intent to leave for this year, this may be a discussion for next year if there is any interest on your part.

Thank you,
