Yes, I believe this will need special event approval. Apologize if this is late. Was traveling. Thank you.

Kathryn,

Happy New Year! Depending on the number of participants I may be able to approve as a small "rolling march" If your march expects to close more than one block of the city streets, it will need to go to the Commission as a Special Event for approval. Let me know ASAP. Include Maria (cc above) so we can determine if we need to prepare a Special Event resolution. Thanks!

Jim

Hello and Happy New Year once again!

A couple of us are organizing another march on January 19, 2019. This is the anniversary of the Women's March and this year it will be associated with that organization. This is being sympathetic to the people who are unable to join the Women's March organization in Orlando.

Please see the link below for the Facebook event.

With your permission and guidance, do you think we should stick to the same marching point as of last year?

I appreciate any guidance you can offer and assistance. Thank you!
