Dear Planning Board Members:

I wish to ~~express my support~~ ^{concern} for Key West Literary Seminar's proposed use of the Elizabeth Bishop House at 624 White Street. Specifically, I ask you to approve their application for conditional use of the property as a civic and cultural organization; and I ask you to ~~grant~~ the parking variance which will restore the historic on-street parking space on White Street.

Sincerely,

Why are these variances requested after the fact? Was the property purchased with the assumption that the variance would be a slam dunk?

I'm glad the house will be restored. But parking in this neighborhood is difficult with ~~near~~ nearby guesthouses. You're adding one space with three full time employees. We own one car and often have a hard time finding a space when I come home from work.
