

The maximum allowable height for habitable space is 50-feet for affordable mixed use development projects that include workforce housing and that are located in appropriately zoned areas outside the Historic District.