Street parking available in neighborhood. This is not a party residence. This is also a shared space. My partner and I live here full time. I work 5 days a week and he is in and out. We're fun, relaxed people who enjoy wine and cooking food. Paul is a chef and I'm a bartender. You can hang out in the living room or on the patio all you would like, come and go as you please, and or relax in your room. Kaleb is a great guy and host! This is reflected in his cozy, beautiful and clean place. Both Kaleb and Paul promptly made me and my friend feel welcome. We had a great chat and drinks upon arrival and they invited us for dinner the next night. As we were heading out were not able to stay for dinner but I am sure Paul is a great chef as the fresh smell of home cooked food was amazing!! Paul also lent me his bike and provide great recommendations. Both guys are awesome. The apartment is in a great location as you can walk, bike or short drive to the busiest streets in town. It is located in a nice quite safe neighborhood. I would absolutely stay here again and recommend staying here too!

Saying at Kaleb's apartment in Key West was wonderful. The place was beautiful, clean, and in a safe neighborhood. Kaleb promptly came over and let me in when I arrived and then provided great recommendations for places to go. Moreover, both he and Paul were delightful to chat with. They immediately made me feel welcome and comfortable. I would definitely stay here again!

I had such a great time staying at Kaleb's! The apartment is even more beautiful than the pictures and the location is amazing - quiet but within walking distance from everything. I was there for a friend's wedding and my stay couldn't have been better! Kaleb is a great host and will make sure to take great care of you. For me, he dropped off an iron at 7am in the morning on a Sunday so that I could get to a wedding looking my best. Absolutely recommend staying here!!

More about the host

- Languages: English
- School: Ventura High, University of Massachusetts Amherst

- Work: Stones Throw Events
- About: I enjoy vacations that feel like adventures. If I'm not living or experiencing things like the people who live in a place, then why am I there? I want to see more of the world soon. I've never been to Europe and I'd really love to experience the people and places I've only ever read about in books or seen on tv or in movies. I want to know what it's like to be there from personal experience not just gathered information. I enjoy food, sun, water, nature, music, dancing, color, beautiful buildings and laughter. If there was one place that had all of these things I would probably stay there for the rest of my life. I love reading mystery and adventure novels because they inspire me to explore more and they remind me that strangers can become life long friends and great exploring companions. I'm a pretty easy going guest as long as the place is clean and comfortable. If there are piles out, they make me uncomfortable and I feel like I have to clean. It's a bit OCD, I know. As a host, I like to be sure my guest has everything they need. Suggestions of places to go, shows to see, places to avoid, a restful place to come home to after your own explorations. I also know that you are traveling for a reason and when you don't want/need to see me, I'm not there. I'd like to be my own boss for the rest of my life. Not that I think I'm right all the time and no one can tell me what to do, but I just enjoy the freedom of setting my own hours and personal sales goals. I love listening to stories and I'm trying to learn how to tell better ones myself. I'd really like to be in a position to help my family all the time and never think twice about it, especially my last remaining Grandmother. She's 92 and I wish she could be around family all the time instead of being in a home. Those are my wishes. I hope they help you understand me more. I'm looking forward to being your guest/ host soon.
