No to the parking variance. I have lived on Caroline Street for 15 years. I am a full time residence, and have to pay to park like anyone else. Caroline Street has just been updated and looks wonderful. The new people at 724 Caroline Street should have checked out the laws before purchasing the house. If it did not meet their expectations they should have purchased somewhere else. I am tired of people buying property here and then trying to change things to suit themselves.
