Paul and I had discussed this, and while there is no current Extra Duty list, reference to it in the form of its listing as an Appendix makes it inappropriate to simply delete it without having discussed it at the table.

Therefore, it should stay in. We know that a current list doesn't exist, and I'm not sure when the last one was, but it's something we can clean up next time.

Thanks.

Putting the entire document together for commission presentation. May I remove "Appendix D" from the table of contents?

Thank you.
