Cheri if the Commission removes the Kee resolution from the consent please read the following.

We all can remember Bishop Kee and his wife selling their wares at the Southernmost Point. All of the various shells and other wares were laid out in neat rows along a portion of the area.

What is really remarkable is the effort that had to be expended to unload all of the heavy shells and numerous other wares each morning to display for sale and the effort to pack all of them back and load them for removal in the evening.

All that work almost every day except Sunday for years and still present that happy friendly "Welcome to the Island" attitude and contribute so much personally to the City.

A statue is only a small token of tribute to this remarkable individual.

Dear Mayor and Commissioners,

Bishop Kee was an ambassador of Key West and a fixture at the Southernmost Point for decades. His legacy is a symbol of the history and heritage of Bahama Village and the multi-cultural community that has made Key West great from the beginning.

It is time for the City of Key West to find funding for Bishop Kee's statue and honor his legacy. I support the creation and placement of the Bishop Kee statue.

Sincerely,
