Project Description

The Truman Annex Seawall Refurbishment project will directly support Naval Air Station Key West (NASKW) and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) while furthering their partnership with the City. The seawall abutting the NOAA facility and boat ramp is currently in a state of significant disrepair. This asset functions as protection for a critical boat ramp facility utilized by the NASKW, as a platform for Naval operations in the harbor and multiple boat slips that are utilized by NOAA.

The seawall is approximately 325 feet in length. It extends in an east-west fashion around a small jetty-like feature to a seawall that is owned and maintained by the U.S. Navy. The water depths adjacent to the seawall range from approximately 12 to 20 feet and quickly dives to 35 feet or more.

In July 2015, the City engaged the engineering firm of Tetra-Tech to provide an engineering assessment for the repair or replacement of the Truman Annex Seawall. The assessment considered multiple options for repairing or replacing the structure and provided cost estimates which were confirmed through a constructability review by a marine contractor. The first option, concrete panel walls, had an estimated cost of up to $1,300,000. The second option, steel sheetpile walls, had an estimated cost of $650,000. The City has carefully considered both options and chosen to pursue the second one, sheetpile walls. This option was determined to be the most cost-effective while still being technically feasible and fully implementable.

The City then funded the estimated design and permitting cost in the FY2015-16 budget. This budget item represents an additional investment by the City of $50,000 into this project.

Tetra Tech was subsequently retained by the City to complete the design, permitting and construction document preparation. This work commenced December 2015, with targeted completion in December 2016.

Objectives

Task 1: Construction of the Seawall - The City will ensure that a qualified contractor is procured consistent with State and local procurement requirements to complete the refurbishment of the Truman Annex Seawall. Work will be performed on the State bay bottom leased to the Navy.

Task 2: Provide Engineering Services During Construction - The City will ensure that construction oversight will be performed either by procuring an engineering firm that specializes in marine projects, utilizing an existing engineering contract that was procured appropriately or by qualified City staff.

Deliverables

1. Construction of an approximately 325 linear foot steel sheetpile wall (Seawall)

Direct Correlation to FDSTF criteria and expected benefit to the State (ROI)

The Truman Annex Seawall project has a direct correlation to five criteria in the 2012-2019 Florida Defense Support Task Force Strategic Plan updated as of March 17, 2016: one Guiding Principle, one short-term strategic goal and three long-term goals. Additionally, this project demonstrates “What Success Looks Like” contained within the Plan. The project also provides the State with a measurable ROI greater than 1:1. This element is important as it demonstrates a direct financial benefit to the citizens of the State.

Guiding Principle - Promote Florida’s military friendly atmosphere and optimum training environment and locations as the best and most cost-effective alternative for the Department of Defense.

NASKW utilizes the harbor adjacent to seawall for a number of mission-ready exercises. Protecting the boat ramp and the adjacent facilities through refurbishing the seawall works will ensure that this training environment is maintained in the most optimal manner possible.

Short-Term Strategic Goals (Naval Air Station Key West) - Support transfer of Truman Annex land parcel to NAS Key West to improve base access and security.

The boat ramp and harbor adjacent to the Truman Annex Seawall has been defined as a critical entry point that NASKW requires for access, training and security purposes. If the seawall were allowed to degrade further, this access would likely be impeded in some regards. Completing this project directly supports the short-term goal of improving base access and security.

Overall Long-Term Strategic Goals - Transportation access.

Transportation access comes in many forms beyond typical roads. In reference to this project, the boat ramp protected by the Truman Annex Seawall is a critical transportation access point. Protecting this access point is consistent with this long-term strategic goal.

Overall Long-Term Strategic Goals - Environmental issues.

The waters adjacent to and surrounding the City of Key West contain a number of critical habitats for both marine flora and fauna. The City is committed to being good stewards of these important resources which have the potential to exist near this project. The City will take appropriate measures to ensure that this project does not negatively impact the marine flora or fauna. All required permits and approvals will be obtained prior to commencing work. These measures are consistent with this long-term strategic goal.

What Does Success Look Like - Florida has strengthened, mutually beneficial community relationships with installation leadership, the Florida Defense Alliance, community leaders along with, city and county officials to capitalize on local resources; efforts are integrated with at all levels.

This project clearly demonstrates success through this mutually beneficial project. The project brings together NASKW, NOAA and the City's leadership to further the partnership that exists between these important entities. This project will utilize Federal, State and local resources, as demonstrated by the financial commitments already made to the project by NOAA and the City combined with a grant from FDSTF and the match that the City will provide to ensure completion.

Return on Investment - The State requires a clear and definable return on investment for all budget dollars expended to ensure that the citizens of the State obtain the maximum possible benefit. NOAA has committed $200,000 and the City is prepared to commit $157,500 which combined represents a 50% match to the State's contribution. This creates an immediate 1:1 return on investment. Beyond the match, the City has already paid for an engineering assessment along with budgeting an additional $50,000 for the design and permitting of the project. This brings the overall project ROI to a factor significantly greater than 1. The non-measurable ROI extends beyond this by support the missions of and fostering the relationship with the U.S. Navy and NOAA. These steps go to ensure that these installations remain in Florida and continue to produce economic benefit to the State.

Performance Measures

Task 1 - Construction of the Seawall: Completion within nine (9) months of the Notice to Proceed being issued to the selected contractor.

Task 2 - Engineering Services During Construction: Completion within nine (9) months of the Notice to Proceed being issued to the selected engineer or City staff.

FY2014-2015 Grant Expenditure Status

The City fully intends to expend the grant funding provided by the FDSTF during the FY2014-2015 cycle. Due to the significant costs associated with Phase I of the project, it has been segmented into Phase IA and Phase IB. The construction contract for Phase IA has been awarded with three separate Notice to Proceed dates. The elements included in the previously funded grant application are predominately located in the first NTP under which the contractor currently proceeding. Based on this progress, the City fully anticipates requesting reimbursement for the full award amount no later than December 31, 2016.
