Dear City Manager Brian Barroso, and City Attorney Kendall Harden,

I am writing regarding the proposed resolution responding to the Final Report of the Monroe County Grand Jury, Winter Term 2026.

The Grand Jury devoted considerable time and effort to reviewing City operations and identifying opportunities to strengthen transparency, accountability, and public confidence in local government. The proposed resolution appropriately directs the City Manager and City Attorney to evaluate many of those recommendations and return to the Commission with implementation options.

As this work moves forward, I encourage the City to approach the review process with a commitment to openness, public participation, and measurable progress. In particular, I hope the City will establish clear timelines, provide regular public updates, and identify specific recommendations that can be implemented administratively without requiring extensive additional study.

I also encourage broad public engagement throughout the process. Residents, business owners, neighborhood representatives, and subject matter experts all have valuable perspectives to contribute as the City evaluates potential reforms.

The Grand Jury's report has generated significant public interest. A transparent and timely review process will help demonstrate that the City takes these recommendations seriously and is committed to restoring and maintaining public trust.

Thank you for your service to the City of Key West and for your attention to this important matter. I look forward to following the City's progress and participating in future public discussions.

Respectfully,

Loretta Di Tocco
Key West Resident
