BIDDER'S DECLARATION AND UNDERSTANDING

The undersigned, hereinafter called the Bidder, declares that the only persons or parties interested in this Bid are those named herein, that this Bid is, in all respects, fair and without fraud, that it is made without collusion with any official of the Owner, and that the Bid is made without any connection or collusion with any person submitting another Bid on this Contract.

The Bidder further declares that he has carefully examined the Contract Documents for the construction of the project, that he has personally inspected the site, that he has satisfied himself as to the quantities involved, including materials and equipment, and conditions of work involved, including the fact that the description of the quantities of work and materials, as included herein, is brief and is intended only to indicate the general nature of the Work and to identify the said quantities with the detailed requirements of the Contract Documents, and that this Bid is made according to the provisions and under the terms of the Contract Documents, which Documents are hereby made a part of this Bid.

The Bidder agrees that if this Bid is accepted, he will, within 10 days, not including Sundays and legal holidays, after Notice of Award, sign the Contract in the form annexed hereto, and will at that time, deliver to the Owner examples of the Performance Bond and Payment Bond required herein, and evidence of holding required licenses and certificates, and will, to the extent of his Bid, furnish all machinery, tools, apparatus, and other means of construction and do the Work and furnish all the materials necessary to complete all work as specified or indicated in the Contract Documents.

Accordingly, instead of requiring any such proof, Owner and Bidder agree that as liquidated damages for delay (but not as a penalty) Bidder shall pay Owner $100 per day for each day that expires after the time specified for Final completion.

Owner will recover such liquidated damages by deducting the amount owed from the final payment or any retainage held by Owner.

For lump sum bid items, it is expressly understood that the amounts are independent of the exact quantities involved. The Bidder agrees that the amounts for both unit price and lump sum work represent a true measure of labor and materials required to perform the Work, including all allowances for inspection, testing, overhead and profit for each type of work called for in these Contract Documents. Project Name: POWELL CREEK RESTORATION DREDGE

SCOPE:

This dredging project was intended to restore the historical flow capacity of Powell Creek by removing approximately 8,000 cubic yards of sediment from within the centerline of the creek. Material was dredged using mechanical and hydraulic methods. Additional permitting was necessary during the project to increase the dredge limits as determined by Lee County.

Mechanical dredging was performed using a barge mounted excavator and a 10 cubic yard hopper. Dredged material was offloaded to sealed dump trucks and transported to the disposal site. The disposal site was located within a City park where gopher tortoise habitat was enhanced with sediment from the project along with landscape plantings.

Hydraulic dredging was performed with a 4inch diameter submersible dredge pump. A handheld 25 foot long 4inch diameter flexible hose was mounted to the hydraulic power unit, staged from the shore or a small floating barge. Dredged material was pumped to sealed dump trucks staged onshore at various locations along the dredged site. Baffles increased sediment settling in the trucks, and the clear water was allowed to return to the creek through gravity fed hoses. Turbidity curtains were used throughout the project, and turbidity levels were monitored closely. Tests were performed using a LaMotte 220e Turbidity Meter. Samples were taken using procedures and standards identified by the Florida Department of Environmental Protection Rule 62-302. Project was completed on time and under budget.

Waterfront Property Services, LLC dba Gator Dredging
PROJECT NAME: SLEEPY RIVER MAINTENANCE DREDGING

SCOPE:

The project included dredging of an environmentally sensitive tidal drainage creek within the City of Oakland Park. Dredging was necessary to restore adequate flow in the river and increase the hydrologic capacity to reduce the risk of localized flooding. Gator Dredging was responsible for engineering, obtaining permits and modifying a public easement for additional areas of the creek. Gator Dredging also performed benthic resource surveys, hydrographic surveys and developed a mitigation plan to offset impacts to submerged aquatic vegetation. Turbidity control was a major concern for this project, and through design and implementation of hand-held hydraulic dredging equipment, Gator Dredging was able to remove accumulated sediments in this environmentally sensitive creek with no primary or secondary impacts to resources caused by reduced water quality. The total sediment removal volume for the project is approximately 2,000 cubic yards over a stretch of the creek that expands over 2,500 linear feet. In addition to sediment removal services, Gator Dredging hand removed large debris and rock from the center of the creek to increase flow and minimize future sediment build-up.

remove shoaling which has accrued over the years due to currents in the marina and canal areas. Sediments were pumped to and dewatered in settling containers. The settling containers or tanks were transported to an upland spoil disposal site.

During operations, dredge areas were enclosed in floating turbidity curtains. Two locations were used for turbidity monitoring to ensure the return water did not exceed ambient background turbidity readings. Field turbidity measurements will were taken on 4-hour increments during dredging operations. The monitoring results were available onsite for agency review.

"I would like to let you know how pleased we are with the work that Gator Dredging did in our marina. Throughout the process, all business with your personnel was conducted in a thoroughly professional manner."
