Madam Mayor and Commissioners,

I am writing to express my support for keeping the southernmost buoy at South Beach. In the last few years its placement in the original location has become a traffic burden due to the lines of people waiting for pictures. Furthermore, building a whole new pocket park at the end of Whitehead street is wasteful spending and would only add to traffic issues on that side of the island, another undue burden for locals. There is already a nearby pocket park at South Beach that can hold the throngs of tourists interested in taking that picture without affecting traffic, let's use the park we already have!

Thank you for your time and consideration,
