

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Florida Keys Community College has dedicated itself to educating and serving the community for nearly 50 years; and

WHEREAS, Florida Keys Community College is celebrating the inauguration of its sixth president Dr. Jonathan Gueverra, February 21-23, with events saluting the community and thanking supporting individuals, organizations, and businesses; and

WHEREAS, Under Dr. Gueverra's leadership, the College will continue to advance its mission of providing the highest quality educational and workforce training programs from Ocean Reef to Key West; and

WHEREAS, Like the bridges that connect the College's unique and dynamic service district, the College will serve as a bridge that grows ever more vital in the community—connecting students to their own academic success and personal goals; connecting industries to a well-trained, in-demand workforce; and ultimately connecting today's opportunities to tomorrow's goals

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Craig Cates, Mayor of the City of Key West, do hereby proclaim February 22, 2013 as

FKCC's PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURATION DAY

in "Southernmost City of the Continental United States." I would like to urge all citizens, residents and visitors of Key West to celebrate the inauguration of the Florida Keys Community College's sixth president on Friday, February 22, at 6:00 p.m. at FKCC's William A. Seeker Campus and at Community Day on Saturday, February 23, 10:00a.m. to 3:00p.m. at FKCC's William A. Seeker Campus.

WITNESS my hand and seal of the City of Key West, Florida, this 20th day of February 2013.

Craig Cates, MAYOR
